Powers' Father Attacks Book

ROANOKE, Va., June 6 (AP).

—"The U-2 Affair," a book on the flight of Francis Gary Powers over Russia, is "largely fiction," Mr. Powers' father says.

Oliver Powers says his son is writing his own account of the flight and that it should be published about the first of the year.

The pilot told him last week end that the David Wise-Thomas Ross book is "about a third right," the father told the Roanoke World-News yesterday. Meanwhile, the pilot refuses to autograph the book, the father said, adding:

"Why should he? It's largely fiction."

His son told him his book is going to be "very much different from this thing," said the Norlina (Va.) shoemaker.
